TRILLIUM Fact Sheet

Trillium is a luxurious alternative to the popular polyester fiber fills commonly used in the furniture industry.

It was designed to mimic 90/10 feather & down blend without any of the drawbacks associated with down. Those drawbacks being regular clumping, pokey feathers, and allergic reactions. It looks kind of like a mix between cotton candy and cotton. But it feels like it could melt in your hand.

What is trillium filling?

Trillium filling is a premium, synthetic polyester fill (micro denier – ultra fine synthetic fibers) that mimics the softness and luxurious feel of natural down but is hypoallergenic and doesn't have the issue of feathers escaping. It's often used in furniture like sofas, chairs, and pillows.

- Material:
 - › Trillium is made from ultra-fine 100% polyester fibers that are delicately pulled apart to create a soft, "angel hair" texture.
- Feel:
 - › It offers a dense, ultra-soft, and luxurious feel, similar to feather and down.
- Benefits:
 - › Hypoallergenic: It's a great option for those with allergies or sensitivities to natural down.
 - › No escaping feathers: Unlike natural down, Trillium won't leave behind escaped feathers or quills.
 - › Holds shape reasonably well with periodic maintenance.
